CDW Education

Amazing happens when it's easy to procure the top IT solutions.

A strategic partnership between Association of Independent California Colleges and Universities (AICCU), FoundationCCC and CDW lets you simplify procurement of the top technology solutions for students and faculty.

When you buy from CDW Education, you get expert advice, unparalleled support and streamlined purchasing through a compliant platform. Our team will give you complete, advanced IT solutions, with exclusive contract pricing that makes purchase decisions easy.

AICCUBuys and CDW partnership

CDW has partnered with the AICCUBuys institutional purchasing program to give access to thousands of technology brands at lower prices. The partnership's advantages include:

Deep cost savings with pre-negotiated discounts and competitive pricing on hardware, software and services.

Efficient procurement from integration with the CDW ePro system that streamlines purchasing through a compliant platform and minimizes the need for RFPs.

Wide technology selection where all colleges can find and procure the best solutions for their needs.

CONTRACT DETAILS

purchasing.aiccubuys.org/vendor/cdwg/

AICCUBUYS
In Partnership with Foundation for California Community Colleges

- Competitive pricing across CDW's entire catalog, including hardware, software and services
- Apple Education Price List available for eligible products
- Installation and configuration services
- Professional services rates via pre-negotiated rate table

Leading technology with a dedicated account team

Our strategic partnership between AICCUBuys and CDW includes:

A dedicated CDW account team that leads the industry in higher education customer service and product knowledge

A pre-negotiated contract, pre-approved by the state, which lets you fulfill orders of any size and type with no need to bid

Professional services to help you design, implement and manage your initiatives

Apple partnership to provide access to all your Apple needs in one spot

Deep relationships and resources with many industry-leading manufacturers

Higher education technology priorities

From the borderless campus to the potential of generative AI, technology plays a more prominent role in higher education than ever before. With all the new opportunities and demands for improved experiences, how do you accomplish your goals with a limited budget? CDW offers the solutions, expertise and support to help you achieve all your highest priorities.

Building a resilient workplace

From managed services to process automation to talent orchestration, we can help you optimize your resources and keep your people doing what they do best.

Modern learning environment

CDW Blueprint to Design® services help you visualize and engineer your space to meet new educational demands such as hybrid learning and AR/VR.

Smart and connected campus

Keep your institution at the forefront of connectivity and high-performance computing with robust, scalable networking and data center infrastructure.

Student engagement and retention

Esports anyone? Deploy the collaboration, analytics and entertainment solutions that make recruitment and retention easier.

Data integrity and campus safeguarding

We'll help you develop a holistic approach that helps balance on-demand access to information with privacy protection and physical security.

To learn more about product offerings and pricing, reach out to your account team.

Brittany Atchison: Britatc@cdw.com

Tyler Quaranta: TyleQua@cdw.com

AICCUBUYS
In Partnership with
FOUNDATION for CALIFORNIA COMMUNITY COLLEGES